TALLINN UNIVERSITY

Tallinn University is the largest humanities university in Tallinn and the third biggest public learning, research and development centre in Estonia. We have more than 8,000 students, and over 900 employees, including over 400 researchers and lecturers (almost 1000 employees all together). At TU, longest traditions of teacher training in Estonia and the most modern film and media school in the Baltic countries exist side by side.

TALLINN UNIVERSITY

The university has a leading role in promoting and developing an intelligent lifestyle in Estonia. As a result, the university has directed its resources and activities into five broad focus fields:

- Educational innovation*
- Cultural competences*
- Society and open governance*
- Digital and media culture*
- Healthy and sustainable lifestyle*

STUDYING ENVIRONMENT

- International university: member of 4 large international networks 55 bilateral agreements with partner universities from across the globe
- over 400 contracts within the Erasmus+ programme – incoming and outgoing international students
- Practical experience is integrated into courses. All our courses are designed to be highly relevant to industry and the professions
- Interdisciplinary studies and academic flexibility
- Active student community
- Open university (film festival, conferences, open lectures, summer and winter school)
