Improving the inclusiveness of Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility (KA107): Survey on the participation of disadvantaged students from the EU Neighbourhood Countries (regions 1,2,3)

Dear participant,

This survey takes place under the European Commission's HERE initiative, implemented by the SPHERE consortium, comprised of the European University Association (EUA) and the University of Barcelona. This survey aims to explore whether the Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility Programme (ICM – KA107) is sufficiently inclusive, i.e. also benefits students who are disadvantaged, for example due to disability, their economic or social situation, belonging to religious, linguistic or other social groups or minorities, etc. (to access the definition of “disadvantaged groups” as proposed by the Erasmus+ Programme Guide, please click here).

We kindly ask you to answer this survey if you are a current or former student from a higher education institution in Albania, Algeria, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Egypt, Georgia, Israel, Jordan, Kosovo (1), Lebanon, Libya, Moldova, Montenegro, Morocco, Palestine, Syria, Tunisia, or Territory of Ukraine (as recognised by international law).

you currently are or have been participating in the Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility Programme (ICM – KA107).

The survey should take you only 15-20 minutes and your response will provide an important contribution to make the Erasmus+ student mobility more inclusive in the future.

All questions marked with * are compulsory (cannot be skipped).

Home institution is the (sending) higher education institution at which you regularly study.

Home country is the country where you regularly study.

Host institution is the (receiving) higher education institution where you have/had a temporary study stay.

Host country is the country where you have/had your temporary study stay.

The information you provide will be treated confidentially. It will be used only anonymously, in aggregated, statistical data, and only for the purpose of this study. Your personal data will not be shared with your home or host institution or any other third party. We require your name, surname and email address in case we might wish to follow up with a query. For our General Data Protection Rules (GDPR), please click here.

Thank you for taking the time for filling out this survey, we are grateful for your contribution!

[1] This designation is without prejudice to positions on status, and is in line with UNSCR 1244 and the ICJ Opinion on the Kosovo Declaration of Independence.
